LORD
BALTIMORE
Steve,
Since there's so much summer left it seems as if we ought to get back but just in case hazy days with all the girls forget come around. Don't and here's hoping for much you soon. Oh we had (crazy quiz) through some
a swell time
your old muddy pond
scratch if your icky back.
back soon.
Here's hopping we'll get
Love,
Janet

EAGLES' NEST

Dedication

It is with sincere appreciation and thanks that we, the Class of 1963, dedicate this EAGLES' NEST to you, William Gerald Adkins, for your interest and advice in our activities.

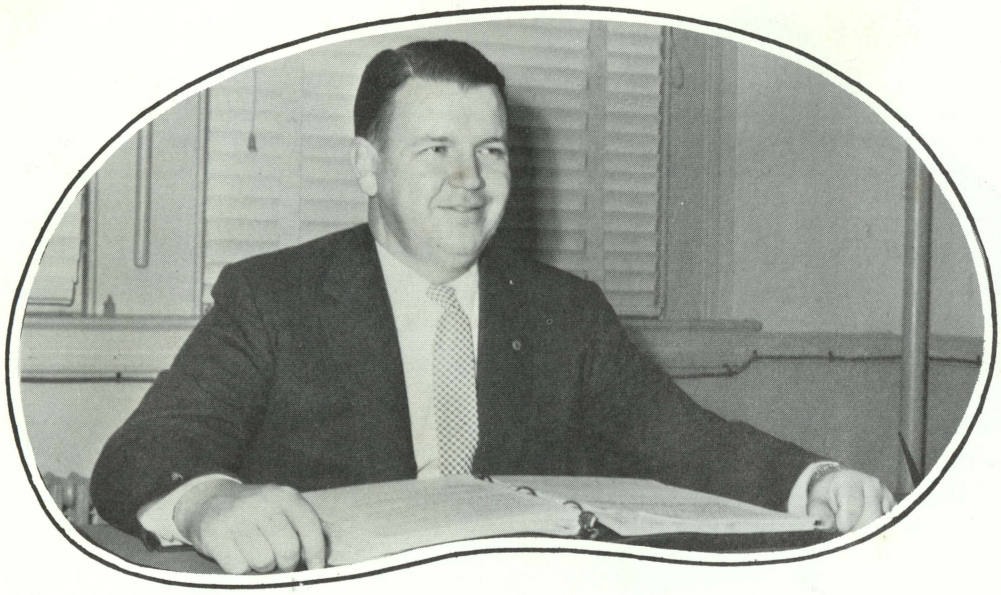
To you on our graduation we give thanks for the past and good wishes for the future.

Life is a succession of hurdles; and anyone who settles back, satisfied with having cleared the hurdles in his path so far, is headed for failure. Each hurdle cleared makes the next one easier; and the ability to accomplish more as time goes on gives the individual more confidence, more ability.

No two people are alike, and the hurdles which seem difficult to one may be easy for another, and we need to be careful less we over-estimate the size of our own hurdles and under-estimate those of the people about us. As you look at other people and the tasks confronting them--the hurdles they must clear--try to remember the time when some hurdle seemed unreasonably high and threatened your peace of mind if not your entire future. May I say that I treasure the memories of the years in which we have worked together. Without knowing it, you have helped me clear many hurdles; and I trust I have been of some service to you. As you go out into the world beyond the High School, may you have the ability and the courage to clear whatever hurdles life puts in your way.

Fred Graef

President of Board



To the Lord Baltimore Class of 1963, congratulations and best wishes from the Board of Education. With these congratulations comes the advice that your relationship with the community changes sharply. No longer are you primary scholars, learning to read and write. No longer are you junior high students, exploring math, languages and science. No longer are you senior high pupils, taking small steps in running your own affairs such as proms and trips. Until now you have been taught, directed, ordered, protected. From now on you are expected to take your place as an adult, shouldering responsibility for advanced studies, work, and conduct in an adult world, serving your God, your country, your family, and yourself. Make us proud of you.

Good luck,

Harry Dukes, Jr.
President, School Board

Board of Education

To the Class of 1963:

September, 1959, marked the beginning of three years of working and growing together. The part I have shared in building and molding the attitudes and character of each of you is drawing to an end.

Your high school life is a time to remember--a time to be proud of--a time to profit from for the rest of your life.

In a real sense the profit you take away from Lord Baltimore will represent interest on the investment in time, effort, and enthusiasm you made while you were here. And all your life long you will continue to receive the benefits of those investments. It will be your duty to see that they have been worthwhile!

My sincerest and warmest wishes go with you for a successful life in the future.

Class History

On September 5, 1951, thirty-four little boys and girls - some happy, some tense - and still others in tears - entered Mrs. Hiestand's and Mrs. Gordy's first grade classes. This was the beginning of several friendships, tasks, and accomplishments.

Our elementary education ended with Mr. Feehley and Mrs. Newton's preparing us for all the difficulties which we would face when we entered Junior High School.

During the seventh and eighth grades Mrs. Betts and Mr. O'Donald were our home-room teachers. It took us several weeks to become accustomed to the new faces, big building, and the changing from class to class.

In our Freshman year our two sections were combined. Mrs. Betts was one home-room teacher. Our class sponsored the Easter dance. How proud we were of our live rabbits which drew much attention!

In our Sophomore year Mr. Gerald Adkins was our new sponsor. Our special feature was a big dinner. Along with having fun, we also cleared much profit.

Our Junior year held in store for us many experiences that we shall long remember. We gave our "Prom" in honor of the Seniors. We still cherish the memories of the "Roman Holiday" and the fun we had constructing it.

Now it is our Senior year. We have now reached the end of twelve long years of learning. Now that we have had the guidance and direction of the teachers of Lord Baltimore, we must part and go our separate ways; but we shall never forget the many friends we have made through these most cherished years.

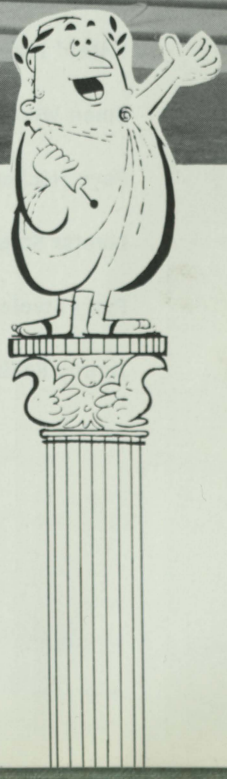
Memories of the "Prom"



Class Will

To the juniors the seniors leave their ability to out-cheer them during the games at noon.

To the sophomores we give our thanks for rooting for us at the lunchtime ballgames.

To the freshmen we leave our ability to put on "comical mysteries."

To the custodians we leave a clean school building and paper-free grounds.

To the cafeteria staff we leave our thanks for the fine food and the good service.

To Mr. Graef the class of '63 leaves a bottle of sleeping pills for all the sleep he has lost over us.

To the school we leave our new stage curtains to replace those we burned.

To the faculty we give our thanks for the help they have given us throughout the years.

To the school board we leave our sincerest thanks for being patient with us during our "bad moments."

To Mrs. McCann we leave a bottle of aspirin for the headaches we have caused her.

The senior boys leave the junior boys "the senior lounge."

The senior class leaves Mr. Adkins a jar of nerve pills.

Lolly Harbaugh leaves her early engagement to Pat McGann.

Jane Evans leaves her ability to play the piano to Hope Banks.

Gerald Hudson leaves his ability to get caught smoking to Art Archilles.

Susan Wook leaves her quiet manner to Susan Hart.

Faye Hocker leaves her ability to get along with Mrs. Joines to Gerald Burbage.

Loretta Steele leaves her slenderness to Vivian Tingle.

Patsy Steele leaves her long dark hair to Nancy Warrington.

Jimmy Robinson leaves his ability to get kicked off the football team to Ronnie West.

Evelyn Townsend leaves her height to Betty Daisey.

Billie Jean Russell leaves her ability to do shorthand to Joyce Temple.

David Steele leaves his slenderness to Donald Willet and his car to Gayle Derrickson.

David Evans leaves his frankness to Karen Fogg and his late hours to Victor Hill.

Roger Hearn leaves his curly hair to Betty Daisey and his skipping ability to Bobby Bant.

Jerry Coffin leaves, period!

Raymond Banks leaves his corners in the hall to Steve Stevenson.

Harvey Breasure leaves his false teeth to Tommy Lewis.

Mary Keen leaves her French ability to her brother.

"The Unholy Three" leave a case of Metrecal to Mrs. Joines.

Ronald Steele leaves his alertness in class to Harry Dukes.

Charlene Nengel leaves her black hair to Phyllis Short.

Elwood Wharton leaves his pitching ability to Kenneth Sutton.

Nancy Rickards leaves her ability to drive a straight shift car to Trudy Collins.

Herbert Murray leaves his ability to catch a football to Richard West.

Fred Townsend leaves his dates to Fred Taylor.

Walter Morgan leaves his frequent trips to Dagsboro to George Wingate.

Patty Wharton leaves her ability to set hair to Bonnie Murray.

Bill Mahan leaves his flirting ability to Ernest Steele.

Hays Grapperhaus happily leaves L.B.

1963 Eagle's Nest Staff

We, the Eagle's Nest Staff, sincerely hope you have enjoyed your 1963 annual. We also hope that this book, the product of our combined efforts, will help you remember fondly your happy moments at L. B.

We offer our gratitude to our advisors, Mrs. Martha Joines and Miss Carol Colvard; to our photographer, Mrs. Marion Howe, who has been very generous in the giving of her time; and to the entire student body for your suport and cooperation.

The Staff
